Death is frequently imagined as a personified force. In some mythologies, a character known as the Grim Reaper causes the victim’s death by coming to collect that person’s soul. Other beliefs hold that the Spectre of Death is only a psychopomp, serving to sever the last ties between the soul and the body, and to guide the deceased to the afterlife, without having any control over when or how the victim dies. Death is most often personified in male form, although in certain cultures Death is perc

There ’ s no denying that the death mask on display is real and a documented authentic mask. The controversy lies in whether or not the man shot down was actually John Dillinger. It seems likely that both the body and the mask belong to Public Enemy Number One, but conspiracy theorists make a compelling case.
