Il Comune svolge un ruolo di primo piano nel campo dell'istruzione obbligatoria ed è chiamato ad ottemperare a numerosi adempimenti volti alla piena attuazione del diritto allo studio. Tra questi uno dei più delicati e complessi, per le molteplici responsabilità che possono derivare dal suo esercizio, per la particolare categoria di utenti e per l'assenza di una normativa organica, è certamente il servizio di trasporto scolastico. Si tratta di una materia stranamente trascurata dalla dottrina, nonostante coinvolga quotidianamente migliaia di Enti e centinaia di migliaia di persone ma, a conferma della sua problematicità, non dimenticata dalla giurisprudenza. In questo quadro il volume, giunto alla sua quinta edizione, pone l'attenzione in particolare sulla natura e sullo svolgimento del servizio – anche con riferimento alle scuole private e ai disabili – individuando le possibili ipotesi di responsabilità, descrivendo i rapporti tra Comune e Scuola, affrontando il delicato tema della possibilità di porre, a carico degli utenti, il pagamento di una tariffa o di un contributo,

Court in the light of this new situation. The Rome conference has sparked intensive work. Ever since January 2001, the intergovernmental co-operation activities of the Steering Committee for Human Rights (CDDH) of the Council of Europe have concentrated on developing normative instruments, of which the most important has been Protocol No. 14 to the Convention. This work has benefited greatly from high-level debates during a series of round-table discussions, within working groups and at seminars organised mainly by the successive presidencies of the Committee of Ministers. The present volume contains a record of this work.

the national enforcement of the EU public procurement rules (as enforcement mainly takes place at national level) and the recent changes introduced with Remedies Directive 2007/66 which are important but also unclear on substantial points. The new remedy ineffectiveness of concluded contracts will be given particular attention. Enforcement at the supranational level is also considered, with emphasis on the possible interaction between national and supranational enforcement of the rules.

It explores the concern of evidence advocates that political interests drive the misuse or manipulation of evidence, as well as counter-concerns of critical policy scholars about how appeals to 'evidence-based policy' can depoliticise political debates. The distinction between in-house and ex-house providing is fundamental and is well known in practice and theory. It is of utmost importance, as the consequence of the categorization of an arrangement as "in-house" is, that it falls outside of the scope of the EC public procurement rules. However, for various reasons, it is often very difficult to establish whether an arrangement is in-house or not. The case law from the European Court of Justice on this subject is highly complex, whereas the case law at national level is sparse. Furthermore, the legal literature both at national and international levels has been relatively limited. This book deals with in-house in a broader perspective and looks into the interpretation, implementation, and practice at the national level in a range of Member States. This book is the
