The Swim to the Moon is an extraordinary open-water swimming adventure through the picturesque Hiland Chain of Lakes near Hell, Michigan. Participants choose their distance — half mile, 1.2 mile, 5K, or 10K — and have the time of their lives swimming through Southeast Michigan's most sublime waterways, all the while showing support for a very worthy cause: North Star Reach, a camp for children with life-threatening, serious, and chronic medical conditions.

Swimming to the Moon by Robert Drewe is a collection of articles published in his column in a WA newspaper. They contain observations on life in WA and Australia and what it's like to grow up on the coast.

Swimming to the Moon by Robert Drewe - Goodreads

Swimming to the Moon is a fun, quirky read. It feels like a mix between Shel Silverstein's Where the Sidewalk Ends and Alan Klatz's I'm Still Here in the Bathtub. The poems are stock full of melody and rhyme. The illustrations are adorable and accompany the poems perfectly.
