In the main a very good album, which is only spoiled by a little repetition in style by Reinhardt's playing. I personally prefer Grapelli's style of contemporary Jazz as a solo violinist, except when Nigel Kennedy accompanied him. I cannot find an album with these two playing together, if so I would have purchased.

Jean "Django" Reinhardt (23 January 1910 - 16 May 1953) was a Belgian guitarist and composer credited with popularizing Gypsy jazz, as well as conceptualizing the style together with several other Gypsy musicians. Reinhardt's nickname purportedly means "I Awake" in the Romani language, however it may also simply have been a diminutive, or local Walloon version, of "Jean".
